

Attachment L. Alameda Point Density Comparison

Alameda Point Density Comparison

ALAMEDA MAIN ISLAND DENSITY

With an area of 5.7 mi<sup>2</sup>, the inhabited portion of Alameda Island was reported in 2006 US Census estimates to have roughly 46,500 residents in 19,750 households. Overall, the island holds:

3,465 HOUSEHOLDS/SQUARE MILE

PROPOSED ALAMEDA POINT DENSITY

With an area of 1.4 mi<sup>2</sup>, the Alameda Point redevelopment project will have 4841 units. This equates to a density less than the current density of the remainder of the island. The Alameda Point redevelopment project will hold:

3,458 HOUSEHOLDS/SQUARE MILE